SMART ONLINE

Internet, Social Media & Digital Safety

Presented By Evan Glenn

Technology changes. Good judgment and trusted relationships last.

THE CONCRETE HANDPRINT

What we share online can be copied, saved or screenshot taken - even after we delete it.

What kind of handprint are you leaving?

THE ROLES WE PLAY ONLINE

MATCH
Starts it

FUEL
Keeps it going

SMOKE
Watches silently

FIREFIGHTER
Helps make it right

Choose to be an UP-STANDER

RECOGNIZE THE BEHAVIORS

PRETENDER
Acts like someone you can trust.

COLLECTOR
Gathers personal details and clues.

SWITCHER
Becomes demanding or threatening.

SMALL CLUES, BIG PICTURE
Names, photos, locations and routines can reveal more than you realize.

BE A CO-PILOT
Same pressures. Different technology. Learn together. Build trust together.

PRIVACY VS. HIDING
Privacy is healthy. Hiding something that could put you in danger is different. Talk with your trusted Co-Pilot.

THE SAFETY NET • NO SHAME. NO BLAME.

“Thank you for telling me. We’ll figure this out together.”

Five small actions for a safer connected life

A PRACTICAL FAMILY CHECKLIST

1 CHECK YOUR PRIVACY

Choose one app or game. Who can see what you share? Who can contact you? What personal or location details are visible?

2 PROTECT EVERY ACCOUNT

Turn on multi-factor authentication (MFA). Never share unexpected sign-in codes or approve surprise logins.

3 PAUSE AND VERIFY

A strange message from someone you know? Avoid links and verify the request by calling a number you already trust.

4 USE AI WITH AWARENESS

Check important claims before trusting or sharing them. Think before uploading photos or personal information.

5 PLAN AN INTENTIONAL RESET

Agree on screen-free times for meals, rest and time together. Post the schedule where everyone can see it—adults too!

ONE CONVERSATION WORTH HAVING

"If something happened online that made you uncomfortable, embarrassed, or afraid, would you feel comfortable coming to me?"

Ask with care. Then listen.
